U. S. Won't Be Surprised If Moscow Produces Navy Airman's 'Confession'

By C. YATES McDANIEL
WASHINGTON, May 11—(P)—
The United States won't be surprised if Moscow eventually produces an alleged confession from a crew member of the American navy plane lost in the Baltic April 8.
A government official in a position to know said this today on the basis of what he asserted to be American "knowledge" that Russia made prompt efforts to salvage remnants of the plane and to pick up its 10 occupants, dead or alive.
He said also that th U. S. "knows" the followinge facts, entirely apart from diplomatic interpretations of Moscow's version of the incident:

Talks Continue On Three-Power Global Strategy

LONDON, May 11.—(P)—The three big Western powers began cold war policy talks today amid signs that Britain was warming up to France's plan to pool much of Europe's coal and steel resources.

Of Editors Sources.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson already has given his "sympathy and approval" to the idea behind French Foreign Miningson, proposal.

"sympathy and approval" to the idea behind French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman's proposal.

The British, who received the plan with astonishment and reserve, would say nothing about it at first except that it would be studied. Soon after Acheson's implied approval, however, a British foreign office spokesman regarded Schuman's proposal as most important. He said Britain long had been anxious to find a solution to the age-long feud between Germany and France. The plan is intended to do just that.

The Dally Herald, newspaper of the Labor movement, which often reflects Labor government policy, welcomed the French plans' intent today. This is about as far as Acheson had gone.

Acheson, Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Bevin met for two hours at Lancaster House to plan their global strategy to stem the spread of Communism and at the same time keep the cold war from flaming into a hot one. They were expected to consider the French coal-and-steel plan, Schuman was expected to explain it to the other two foreign ministers.

Truman Pledges Development Of

GRAND COULEE DAM, Wash., May 11.—(P)—President Truman declared today his determination to develop low-cost public power on all the country's great rivers and fight against its use "for private profit."

"We have embarked, all over the country, on the task of fully developing our resources for all the people," he said.

"And we shall have to continue to overcome the opposition of those and do not understand the greatness of our goal, or who fear the impairment of their selfish interests.

"We will meet opposition from the private power groups. Many of them—there are honorable exceptions, of course—do not want the energy of our rivers put to use as power and sold to the people at cost."

Lesinski Blocks Efforts To Probe Strike By UMW

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—
U. S. military officials are considering the idea that this country should arm its North Atlantic Allies with atomic bombs.
Discussions are in the preliminary stage, and the military authorities are still far from a recommendation on which the President might base a proposal to Congress.
The idea of placing atomic bombs within reach of Britain, France and other allies is being explored thoroughly, however, and military arguments are developing both for and against it. Advocates contend that some way must be found to arm Western Europe faster and cheaper than is must be found to arm Western Europe faster and cheaper than is possible with conventional weapons. They argue that the job must be done in two years, the earliest time by which it is estimated Russia may have a stockpile of atomic bombs adequate for a major blow in an atomic war.

The proposal for a-bomb sharing, friends of the idea say, calls for a revolutionary concept of Western lefense. In brief this concept calls for replacing many expensive ground troops in Europe with bombing groups supplied with large arsenals of light weight atom bombs. Advocates say such a plan could be put into effect quickly and at far less cost than cenventional defenses, on which they argue Russia would like to see the west spend its resources.

The nearness of atomic supplies also might deter the Russians from launching an aggressive action, they contend. U. S. Military opponents of the plan argue:

(1) Atomic bombs would be safer and more certain of delivery in American hands,
(2). Internal politics in some countries now allied with the West might throw them into the Com-

Dance bands are making a big comeback in teen-age circles. Young moderns who have been listening to the Comos, Sinatras and Haymes boys now are kicking their heels to the latest dance tempo at dance record parties. Dixieland jazz is hot news today, and the Charleston, Black Bottom and Varsity Drag of the twenties are neck-and-neck in popularity with dance fans.

One big series indicating the trend are record albums in a new series called "Here Come the Dance Bands Again," issued by RCA Victor. It includes 17 bandleaders and all time hits by fifteen composers.

DISOBEDIENCE AND IDOLATRY MARKED END OF NATION'S LIFE

Ten Tribes of Israel Met Exile and National Extinction—Spiritual Laws Operate Both For Nations and Individuals—Modern Lesson Taught in Ancient Prophecy

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Some years ago it would have seemed naive to assert that as a tions' deathny is determined by its moral character. Today, that truth looms from the pages of history like fujiyama on a clear day from Japan's inland sea. Written large is the stern admonition to every and all nations: Disobodience to the clear commands of the Edra nai leads to ultimate disaster. To no other people had this truth been expounded so often and so clearly as to the sincent Hebrews. A long line of prophecare that the Lord Cod Johowh was sovereign in their affairs and that disobedience to Him could bring only disaster. So permanently profound were the teachings of the Himself. It would propould bring only disaster. So permanently profound were the teachings of the Himself. The continues of a gody king, they would mend that disobedience to Him could bring the prophets, Hosea, pleading with the people to turn heart inflorm was carried of this week, we hear one of Israel's greetst prophets, those the entire mixed by the continues of the content of t standards of life disappear, civilizations quickly collapse of their own rottenness.

Both the northern and southern kingdoms went on the rocks as nations because they turned aside from the cear course of good faith, loyalty, and justice. They sold their birthrights—the most precious ever entrusted to any people in history—for a mess of pottage which neither nation got. But the exile taught the Jews a lesson which they took to heart with deep earnestness. It cured them of idolatry. Never since that time have they gone after the false gods of other nations.

Too Late to Help.

Through the prophecies of Hosea one hears the whirr of the seige missiles, as less than 50 years after this far-seeing prophet spoke the city of Samaria was destroyed and the people carried off into exile and slavery. Above the printed page as one reads there arises the horritying vision of emaciated, cooped-up men and women being herded together for an agonizing trek to the land of exile. The fearful inroads of famine had cut deep into the life of

Emhouse ManWed In New Jersey

Miss Camilia Marie Ashurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ashurst of Rutherford, New Jersey, became the bride of Jeremiah Nicholas Parrish, son of Mrs. Mettie Parrish and the late Mr. J. N. Parrish of Emhouse, April 9th at the First Presbyterian Church in Rutherford, N. J. The Rev. Fred Masters Holloway was officiant for the ceremony.

The bride wore white eyelet organdy over blue tinted satin, fashioned with a V-neckline, cap sleeves and a full skirt. Her shoulderlength veil fell from an organdy and satin bonnet, and she carried a nosegay of white blossoms.

Mrs. Samuel Padula of Maywood was flower girl.

For Miss Bonner

A shower honoring Miss Lillie Bonner whose marriage to Clifford Stubbs of Jonesboro will take place May 12, was given in the home of Mrs. Poster A. F. Soape, Jr., Robert Hedrick and Clifton Perry as co-hostesses.

The home was adorned with spring flowers and the table in gifts were displayed was beautiful with a decor of white roses and Queen Anne's lace centered around a bride's doll. Over the table hung a cluster of wedding bells which gave added beauty.

Mrs. Lowell Bonner of Richland was in charge of the guest book and assisted in two cames in which Mrs. Roy Reed and Mrs. R. L. Cox were winners.

After the gifts were opened and delicious plate with sandwiches in designs of wedding bells carrying out the bridal theme.

Many farmers Learn
Many farmers in the lower Rio Grande Valley, where early cotton aiready is well up. found out the value of early control. The fields were heavily infested with thrips but control measures prevented much of the expected stunting of plants.
Reasons for early war against the insects is explained like this by various experts of the Extension Service and USDA:
1. Insures early fruiting.
2. Insures earlier maturity and better grade.

Insures earlier maturity and better grade.
 Reduces boll weevil hazards.
 Makes possible earlier harvesting.
 Under favorable conditions yields will be increased.
 Makes possible carlier destruction of stalks, which will help in controlling next year's insect crop.

in controlling next year's insect crop.

At Four-Leaf Stage
The entomologists advocate early treatment against cutworms and army worms boll deevils, thrips, applids and fleahoppers. Cutworms and army worms should be sprayed or dusted when needed.

And for the others, spraying or dusting should be done when the cotton is about the four-leaf stage, or about the usual chopping time. Spraying and dusting should continue at about seven-day intervals. But an important point is to stop spraying before blooming time or about 30 dayes before bollworms usually appear. This time varies and your county agent should be consulted.

The spraying and dusting must be stopped at the proper time to allow beneficial insects to develop as protection against bollworms. Gunter points out that in the case of bollworms, the early matuture cotton plants.

Consult County Agents

Consult County Agents
Your county agent also should be consulted about sprays or dusts to tuse—entomologists say both methods are equally effective. The usual dust against weevils, thrips, aphids and fleahoppers is 20 percent toxaphene and 40 per cent sulphur or the 3-5-40 preparation used at a rate of 7-10 pounds per acre. The generally recommended spray is toxaphene or 2-1 mixture at the rate of 3-4 to 1 1-2 pounds per acre. Later in the season, more spraying and dusting may be needed as inspection of the plants reveals insects in damaging numbers.

And entomologists are constantly stressing an early plowup of cotton stalks to help reduce the boll weevil population. The value of this practice has been shown in the lower Rio Grande Valley, where the procedure was instrumental in controlling pink bollworm devastation.

Mud Lake

Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves, Figured we'd think up a brand-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy -sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it-for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners. From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered .his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be-whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale-if and when we choose.

Council Interest Challenged
Assistant Attorney General William S. Lott argued the Trades Council had failed in trial court to prove it had a sufficient interest of its own in the case to challenge the wage determinations of the commission.

Further, he contended, wage findings of the commission are final and can not be challenged in court unless fraud is charged.

Wells said the Trades Council had an interest in the case because it is an organization designed to protect the rights of working men.

He claimed the wage scale of 75 cents to $1.65 per hour set by the commission was so far away from the 95 cents to $2.50 per hour which the Trades Council contends for that the commission obviously is wrong.

This Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Won A Case Against A&P

As almost everyone now knows, the anti-trust lawyers in Washington have brought a civil suit to destroy A&P. They ask the courts to order the dissolution of this company.

They say that this suit is based on the fact that they won a suit against us at Danville, Illinois, in 1946.

They did. In that case, Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley made a decision against A&P.

Immediately thereafter, in a letter explaining his decision, Judge Lindley wrote:

"I have not condemned the A&P system.

I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

So, now we have the anti-trust lawyers saying that their suit to dissolve A&P is based on Judge Lindley's decision; while Judge Lindley himself says his decision could not be the basis for a suit of dissolution.

In previous ads we told you about the cases against A&P which the anti-trust lawyers lost. We promised to tell you about this case they won. Here is the story of the Danville case.

What Judge Lindley Objected To

At Danville, the anti-trust lawyers made all of the charges which they are again making against A&P today. They were substantially the same charges they had made and dropped at Dallas, Texas, after four federal judges had objected to some of them as "inflammatory." In his decision, Judge Lindley was critical of some of our activities. He threw some of the charges out of court. He did not make any decision on others.

He even took occasion to praise A&P for the efficient job of food distribution it had done. Judge Lindley said:

"To buy, sell and distribute to a substantial portion of 130,000,000 people, one and three-quarter billion dollars worth of food annually at a profit of $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents on each dollar, is an achievement one may well be proud of.

"No place in the world I take it are people so well fed as in the United States. Nowhere else, I suppose, do food distributors accomplish efficient distribution at so low a margin of profit. In contrast, we are told in other nations the problem is not one of an adequate diet but one of no diet at all."

But Judge Lindley did find us in violation of the Sherman Act. He based his ruling on the dual role played by our fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, the Atlantic Commission Company, whereby that organization acted both as buying agent for A&P and as selling agent for growers.

Judge Lindley said:

"If I assume for the purpose of disposition of this case that in general the policy of A&P was to operate within the law and attribute to defendants a desire to comply with the law, there still remains the conscious, knowing adoption by all defendants of a plan of action by the Atlantic Commission Company affecting every department of A&P and every retail store which cannot be squared with the intent and purpose of the act."

In his letter explaining the decision, Judge Lindley wrote: "I have condemned their practices through the Atlantic Commission Company."

Judge Lindley imposed fines totaling $175,000. When his decision was upheld by the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, we paid the fines. This ended the case—but we did not stop there.

What We Did To Correct This

In the light of the decision, we immediately set about reviewing our activities to be such that there could never again be any criticism of our operations.

First, the Atlantic Commission Company abandoned the dual role to which Judge Lindley objected and which he said was the basis of his decision against us.

We did this even though the Atlantic Commission Company had been licensed for many years by the United States Department of Agriculture to act as both a buyer and seller of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Atlantic Commission Company now only buys for A&P. In other words, we stopped doing the thing which Judge Lindley said put us in violation of the Sherman Act.

We made additional changes in other methods of operation which Judge Lindley had questioned at Danville, even though he did not base his decision on them.

We did even more than this!

We went down to Washington and asked the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to their new interpretation of the vague anti-trust laws. The only answer we ever got was that we should break up this company?

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to A&P's size, they insisted that we destroy this size.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our manufacturing operations, they insisted that we get rid of our factories which produce many of the fine foods you buy at A&P.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our low prices, they insisted that we destroy many of the efficiencies that make these low prices possible.

In other words, they insisted upon the dissolution of A&P.

We were still trying to find out from the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to the law when they filed the current suit to destroy A&P.

Why, Then, Do They Want To Put A&P Out Of Business?

Ever since this suit was filed, the anti-trust lawyers have been making damaging statements that could seriously hurt our business if they were believed by the public.

They say that we were found guilty at Danville of all the charges they are making today.

This is not true. Judge Lindley did not sustain all of the charges of the antitrust lawyers.

They say this suit is designed to enforce the law.

But A&P has clearly demonstrated its sincere desire to abide by the spirit, as well as the letter of the law.

They say they are seeking to "enjoin" A&P from engaging in certain "alleged" practices.

Actually, the whole purpose of this suit is not to "enjoin" us, but to put us out of business.

They say that this suit for dissolution is based on the decision handed down by Judge Lindley in Danville.

But Judge Lindley has said of his decision: "I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

What, then, is the real reason why the anti-trust lawyers want to destroy this company, which for 90 years has pioneered the methods of distribution which have given the American people more good food for their money?

Military Junta Seizes Haiti In

Lightning Move PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, May 11—(P)—Military rulers seized the government of Haiti Wednesday after almost four years on the sidelines. They came back to power af-after almost four years on the sidelines. They came back to power after President Dumarsais Estime tried unsuccessfully to insure his own re-election.

Estime resigned and was succeeded by the same three-man military junta who threw out his predecessor in January, 1946. The junta, which had ruled the country until Estime's election in August, 1946, announced the president and his family had been placed under its "protection."
(In Miami an informed source said Estime may go to Paris to live.
His predecessor, Elie Lescot, found refuge in Canada.)

Immediately after taking office
the Junta dissolved parliament, promising at the same time in a proclamation to respect Haiti's existing international agreements and to "maintain Democratic practices."

Lumber Mill Fire Idles Over 350

SILSBEE, Tex., May 11—UP)—
The Bessmay Lumber Mill. largest in East Texas, burned Wednesday night. The mill, fuel houses and engine room were a total loss.
Officials of the Kirby Lumber Company, owner of the mill, said the flames did not reach the dry kilns, the planer shed or stored lumber in the mill yard.

The mill had a capacity of 100,000 board feet every eight hour shift. Lately it had been running about half capacity.

At least 350 employes were temporarily put out of work by the fire.

Temple To Get Water Mearing

TEMPLE, Tex., May 11—(IP)—A hearing in Austin on Temple's salty water is scheduled late this week or early next week.

Assistant State Attorney General Burnell Waldrep promised the hearing after a conference with Temple Water Superintendent Bill Weems and City Commissioner Winston Llies.

Waldrep said the hearing, with members of the State, Fish, Game and Oyster Commission and the State Health Department, will be set as soon as a health department report on salt pollution of Temple's water is completed. He said the report, originally due April 11, would be ready in a "day or two."

Temple first objected to pollution of its water supply by Eastland County oil field operators late last year. In. January operators were given 90 days to rid Leon river of pollution. Temple says the water is still salty.

Kinsloe House begins its twelfth year today with prospects for another successful season in which the facilities of the organization will be available for serving all phases of civic and cultural life in the community. Emerging at the end of its eleventh year with more than five hundred members and thirty-two affiliated organizations, and with a program that will interest its membership, it is highly appropriate that the clubhouse should continue as the center of women's civic and cultural activities in Navarro County. Kinsloe House is a living tribute to the dynamic spirit of its founders.

Mrs. Matthew Arnold brought the memorial meditation in which she quoted favorite Scriptural verses of the deceased members, and read an appropriate poem in conclusion. The 121st Psalm was a particular favorite with several of the deceased members, she said. Background music by Mrs. Dockum included organ interpretations of "Panis Angelicus" and "Melancholy."

Memorial Interlude.

The memorial interlude proper centered around a white cross fashioned of malines, in which clusters of vari-hued garden flowers were placed by friends of the deceased as the names were called by Mrs. Murchison.

The first cluster of blossoms was placed on the cross by Mrs. Jack Cunningham in memory of Mrs., H. E. Kinsloe, whose birthday each year is also observed as the birthday of Kinsloe House. Others memorialized were Mrs. Murphy concerning the accomplished young teen-age organist of the afternoon. The organ concert was an exciting musical experience for the two hundred members in attendance, and the young artist did not fail to justify the reputation that had preceded him. An engaging personality, admirable technical facility and the outstanding ease with which he handled the organ and its coloristic devices, all conspired to make Charles Webb steal the hearts of his listeners, who demanded numerous request numbers after the printed program had been concluded.

Young Mr. Webb's program was effectively contrasted, ranging from Bach to the Birthday Song (which was sung by the audience as a tribute to the clubhouse.)

The beauties of the Hammond Organ as a solo instrument were revealed to good advantage in the following numbers: To the Evening Star, Wagner; Now Thank We Ali Our God, Karg-Elert; Andante from Fifth Symphony, Tschaikow-sky; The World Is Waiting for the

SILSBEE, Tex., May 11—UP)—
The Bessmay Lumber Mill. larget in East Texas, burned Wednesday night. The mill, fuel houses and engine room were a total loss. Officials of the Kirby Lumber Company, owner of the mill, said the flames did not reach the dry kilns, the planer shed or stored lumber in the mill yard.

The mill had a capacity of 100,000 board feet every eight hour shift. Lately it had been running about half capacity.

At least 350 employes were temporarily put out of work by the fire.

Squirrel Invades Downtown Section

A squirrel atop a highline pole at the corner of the Palace Theatre and near the S. P. Cafe caused considerable attention from passersby and travelers along West Sixth avenue Wednesday morning.

Persons employed at the cate discovered him about daylight.

Conjectures were that a dog or some other enemy frightened the squirrel and that he scampered up the pole for safety.

Clean-Up Week Saves Housing Fire Chief Says

Through our carlessness every year we are depriving many young couples of a home of their own, Fire Chief Howard Bevins declared in a statement calling for support of Corsicana citizens in ridding their homes of fire hazards for Clean-Up Week.

in ridding their homes of fire hazards for Clean-Up Week.

The housing shortage is the worst the United States has ever experienced. Still fore, generally caused by negligence, damages 350,000 homes and in addition destroys enough timber and lumber every year to build 140,000 fiveroom houses, the chief pointed out.

Think of those homeless couples, the chief urged, the next time you're off on a jaunt through the woods and re lighting a cigarette or leaving a fire. Make sure the match is completely dead before throwing it away, he cautioned, and the fire's cold ashes smothered with dirt before leaving it.

He also warned householders that all rubbish, papers and bricabrac from closets, halls, basements and attics should be cleaned out. Throw out everything you're not going to use, he said.

Also check all fuses, stoves and heaters to safeguard your head heaters to safeguard your home against fire. Avoid forcing more persons into the crushing competition for few available houses.

Pastures Needed For Profitable Milk Production

An A. and M. College pasture specialist—Albert Crain—told Navarro county dairymen here Wednesday that Texas might do well to adopt Wisconsin's idea of producing milk profitably.

That idea, he said, is fertilizing and maintaining pastures.

"Why buy a sack of feed for $35 when the same amount of food value can be produced in the pasture for a cost of only $9?" he asked.

speaking at the second annual Dairy Day at the Fairgrounds, Crain said Texas' greatest competitor in the sale of milk is Wisconsin, a state which ships its milk far down into Texas at a profit. But Wisconsin dairymen, he added, have a sound pasture program.

"Texans don't like to imitate others," he said. "but maybe we should catch on to this idea."

A large exhibit of valuable pasture grasses and legumes were displayed at the Dairy Day event by the Navarro County Vocational School.

A number of bids will be submitted to the Navarro County Commissioners Court May 24 for the main building in the $1,600,000 Navarro County Memorial Hospital.

Joe D. Huffstutler, county judge, received a list of bidders from the architects, W. G. Clarkson and Co., Fort Worth. Thursday showing 10 general contractors, 15 mechanical, 14 electrical, eight miscellaneous supply houses, four elevator concerns, three laundry manufacturers and two kitchen bidders will submit proposals.

Judge Huffstutelr. E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor, and H. R. Stroube, chairman of the executive committee of the hospital advisory board, attended the opening of bids Wednesday afternoon at Palestine for the Anderson County Memorial Hospital of $4 beds. The bids totaled $1,003,000.

Auditor Cunningham said it looks as if it will be necessary to open the bids in the district courtroom as he does not think the county courtroom can accommodate those interested who will attend.

A number of the bidders at Palestine are also submitting bids here.

Richard W. Knight, 55, Wichita Falls, a former manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, today was hired to again head the local C office. Kni' ht, who worked in Corsicana until 1942, was C-C manager at Abilene and Wichita Falls before going into business. He will replace Herman Brown, who has accepted a similar job at Lufkin. Joe E. Butler, chairman of the recommendation committee, said Knight would report for work May 20. Announcement of the selection was made at a meeting of the C C board of directors. Other matters discussed by the directors included committee reports, announcement of Dairy Day at the Fair Grounds Wednesday at 9 a. m., and the Future Farmers of America project show at the Fair Grounds Saturday. A. F. Mitchell, a member of the state highway commission, announced that about 200 miles of farm to market roads had been planned for Navarro county this year. Farm Bureau Is Sponsoring Cotion Contest

The Navarro County Farm Bureau is sponsoring a cotton contest this year for 4-H and FFA members, and about 50 persons already have enrolled.

Announcing this Thursday, Ray O. Brooks, instructor in the Corsicana class No. 1 of the County Vocational School. reported that prizes would be presented to the winners by Will Sidney Price, president of the county Farm Bureau. The contest closes December 1.

Basis for scoring entries will be (1) yield per acre of seed cotton; (2) production report, its completeness, neatness and accuracy.

Prizes will total $210 as follows: First prize, $100; second, $66; third, $34; next ten prizes, $10.

Purposes of the contest are to secure information on cultural practices which will be of value to cotton farmers, and also to assist young farmers in developing an active program for cotton production.

planned for Navarro county this year. The publicity committee reported welcome signs could be erected at five entrances to the city for about $900. The proposed signs would carry the emblems of the three civic clubs and signatures of the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The general idea was approved, but the feeling was that the signs should be larger than 9x12. The committee is to continue work on the plan. Cancer Fund Has Reached $1713.75

Sentence Of Five Years Suspended

John Walter Howell, 34, of Corsicana, received a five-year suspended sentence in district court at Groesbeck Monday after pleading guilty to charges of assault to murder his wife.

Howell was indicted for the shooting of his estranged wife, Bessie, the night of January 14 in a Mexia beer tavern. He pleaded guilty before Judge H. Fountain Kirby, waiving a jury and applying for a suspended sentence through his attorneys, Doyle Pevehouse and George O. Nokes, Jr.

Mrs. Howell recovered from the pistol wounds in her head and contested the defendants application for a suspended sentence, Pevehouse said. Several witnesses from Corsicana testified in behalf of Howell's reputation.
